Granville Vance Public Health (GVPH) is currently recruiting for two full-time Environmental Health Specialists to work in our Environmental Health department in both Granville and Vance counties.

THE PRIMARY PURPOSE: The primary purpose of these two full-time positions is to protect the health, safety, and well-being of the public by providing direct professional services for environmental health, through education, surveillance, evaluations, consultation and enforcement of local, state, and federal environmental health laws and regulations. The positions involve working in on-site wastewater programs; evaluating building sites; designing appropriate ground absorption systems upon approval of site and evaluating systems upon installation. Duties may also include routine evaluations and surveys of establishments with facilities affecting public health, such as restaurants, meat markets, lodging, day care facilities, and swimming pools.

MINIMUM REQUIREMENTS: Qualified applicants must have a bachelor’s degree from a four-year college or university with 30 semester hours of course work in the physical or biological sciences and two years’ experience in environmental health, or a four-year or Master’s degree in environmental health from a program which is accredited by the National Accreditation Council for Environmental Health Curricula of National Environment Heath Association and one year of experience in environmental health. Preference will be given to those with a Registered Sanitarian (RS) designation. Applicants will be accepted with the above required sciences for a two-year trainee position that will satisfy the two years’ experience requirement in environmental health.

COMPENSATION PACKAGE: GVPH offers competitive benefits including paid group medical insurance, N.C. Local Government Employees Retirement System membership, thirteen paid holidays, and vacation and sick leave. Other voluntary group benefit options are available, including 401(k), 457(b), dental insurance, life insurance, vision insurance and flexible spending accounts.

To apply for these positions interested applicants must submit the following: a completed State application (PD 107), college transcript, and three work-related reference contacts. Open until filled with first review of applications October 31, 2022. Applicants may submit via email to humanresources@gvdhd.org or postal mail to:

   Personnel Director
   Granville Vance Public Health
   Post Office Box 367
